Question: Is there a cut-off time and date in your ITT for Q&A's?

Answer: I have checked with our finance department and you can email signed addenda that are issued after you have sent your tender package. You do not have to send in an amended tender package containing the additional addendum(a). Just email any signed additional addenda. If the additional addenda affect your pricing just include the amended price with the addendum(a) that are issued after you have sent in your tender package.
